

Guidelines for BIRAC AcE Fund (Accelerating Entrepreneurs)

1. Introduction and Scope Of the BIRAC AcE Fund:

Biotechnology including medical technologies industry (hereafter referred to as “Biotech”) has the power to provide solutions to myriad challenges that we face in healthcare, food & nutrition, agriculture, renewable energy and environment remediation. It is also known that biotech product development is associated with significant risks especially it requires significant amount of capital as well as a long gestation period sometime up to 10-12 years.

Over the last 5 years, BIRAC through a dedicated and focused approach has created a significant and substantial change in the biotech entrepreneurial ecosystem of the country by designing and operationalizing early stage funding programmes such as Biotechnology Ignition Grant (BIG)- which has evolved to be the largest early stage funding program for biotech entrepreneurs and startups in the country. Through BIG and other funding programmes such as SPARSH, BIRAC has funded close to 500 biotech startups who are focused on developing next generation solutions through cutting edge product development.

It is now crucial that many of these startups are able to transition to the next level and grow. This next phase of growth requires growth capital and this is a critical gap that where the BIRAC AcE Fund intends to fill through a systematic intervention to attract more capital venture

The proposed initiative - BIRAC AcE (Accelerating Entrepreneurs) Fund (hereafter referred to as “AcE Fund”), operate as “Fund of Funds” which will foster R&D and innovation in Biotechnology domains (including areas such as healthcare, pharma, medical devices, agriculture, sanitation to name a few). AcE Fund shall invest in and partner with SEBI-registered AIFs (i.e. Venture Funds and Angel Funds), which will be professionally managed and desirous of investing in these sectors.

It is intended that the AcE Fund plugs the gap of the “Valley of Death” encountered by the Biotech startups during their product development cycle and growth phase.

AcE Fund shall enable creation of an ecosystem for providing risk capital to young enterprises to undertake research and development in high priority technology areas. It will, in the process, enrich the intellectual property in the country and encourage more entrepreneurs to work towards product and technology development of high quality at affordable economies in sustainable manner. AcE Fund is being promoted by DBT through BIRAC, under the aegis of Make in India initiative.

2. Funding framework for AcE Fund implementation.

I: Overall Framework:

- A. The AcE Fund is a “fund of funds” and will aim to partner with fund managers (“AcE Fund Partner”) and invest in SEBI-registered AIFs (“Daughter Funds”) managed by Fund Managers. In View of the strong signal of commitment by BIRAC and DBT towards supporting startups in the sector, AcE Fund shall act as a catalyst to attract private investors, corporates and LPs to such Daughter Funds. The Daughter Fund shall commit to invest a portion of their corpus in Biotech startups with growth potential. The Daughter Funds supported by the AcE Fund will support startups at an early and growth stage that may be ready to receive pre-Series-A or Series-A funding – with a minimum commitment towards startups in the Biotech space. On need basis specialized consultations and other guidance essential for the AcE fund implementation shall also be acquired by BIRAC out of funds allowed in order to attain the objectives.
- B. The AcE Fund shall make a maximum capital commitment of up to Rs 30 crores or up to 30% of the total aggregate capital commitment amount (i.e. fund corpus) in the each daughter Fund. The assistance to each of the start-up will be up to INR 7 crores against equity held by the Partner.
- C. The AcE partner shall commit to invest at least twice the amount committed by the AcE Fund into start up in the biotech/Life Science sector over the term of daughter fund.
- D. The selection of the Daughter Funds for support by AcE Fund shall be made through a detailed application and evaluation process as detailed herein.
- E. BIRAC will constitute a BIRAC AcE Fund Committee (“AcE Apex Committee”) that will include members having experience in investment, startups, and entrepreneurship development. This AcE Apex Committee shall consider the proposals of eligible partners for the implementation of the AcE Fund.

II. Selection of AcE Fund Partner

- A. BIRAC will select Daughter Funds through Advertisement or other means for its AcE fund implementations.
